The performance last Friday night <8-9-91> in Cazadero was an expirience one. The reason it was an experience one was because the performance was outside in the woods and there was a stage. The choir has never sang in the woods before, it was a great experience for everybody who sang their. After the performance some of us stayed overnight until Sunday morning for me it was like bieng away from the Bay Area, the place was so quiet it felt like bieng in the island.

Some people have been asking me about what I think about the people's park situation. All I can say is one thing that is for sure and that is violence does not solve problems. The only way they can resolve it is by sitting down and try to come up with an agreement. About the volleyball court I mean it is unfair because whoever did it does not own the park plus why is this happening? What made this happen?
