

To: Kingston

From: POUGHKEEPSIE PDL
Dept. 539, Bldng. 965
March 28, 1958

MEMO TO: Mr. J. J. Hirsch

SUBJECT: Engineering Seminar

Thank you for your invitation to speak on April 23, 1958. As I mentioned to you on the phone, I think it would be desirable for Dr. Harwood Kolsky to use the latter part of the time period for a discussion of the results of the Simulation program which evaluates the design of the virtual memory.

Dr. Kolsky's and my biographies are enclosed.

John Cocke
Staff Engineer
Project 7000 Planning

JC/pkb

Encls.

3/28/58

Biography

Dr. John Cocke

Born and raised in Charlotte, N. C. Received B. S. in mechanical engineering, Duke University - 1945. Navy - 1946. Employed by Air Engineering Company - 1946-1948. Employed by General Electric High Voltage Laboratory - 1949-1950. Navy - 1951-1952. Received Ph. D. in mathematics, Duke University, 1956. Joined IBM in August 1956. Now in Stretch Planning, Product Development, Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Harwood G. Kolsky

Received B. S. in Physics, University of Kansas - 1943. U. S. Army Signal Corps 1943-1946. Received Ph. D. in Physics at Harvard University, 1950. Staff member and associate group leader at Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory 1950-1957. Joined IBM Product Planning, Stretch group, Poughkeepsie, in September 1957.