

Copyright © 1994 Scholastic Inc. All rights reserved. Unauthorized reproduction or distribution of any material or program or contents contained on this disc in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying or otherwise is prohibited. For information regarding permission, write to Scholastic Inc., 555 Broadway, New York, NY 10012. Based upon the Book EXPLORING THE TITANIC by Robert D. Ballard, a Scholastic/Madison Press Book. Copyright © 1988 by Robert D. Ballard. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED. Published by arrangement with The Madison Press, Ltd. Scholastic/Madison Press Limited Software

Scholastic Smart Books combine best-loved literature with the power of your computer. These electronic books can find and show students videos of people and places they are reading about, play music and run newsreels of life in other times, and put hard-to-find primary source material at their fingertips.

And Smart Books provide students with high-tech tools that invite them to highlight passages, mark pages and sections with electronic stamps, and post audio sticky notes to themselves. Scholastic Smart Books challenge students to read with more power and purpose than they ever have before.