The David Jamison Carlyle Corporation is a large-scale distributor of computer terminals, data communications equipment and systems, offering the most complete selection of name brand products in the country.

Because of our broad spectrum product line and excellent prices, we have been extremely successful in providing our customers with master purchasing plans; in this manner, consolidated equipment buying or rental incurs substantial cost savings, efficient deliveries and nationwide support.

D.C.'s large quantity buying power allows us to maintain extensive inventory on most products. Mix-and-match is available to those who qualify. Our prices, including quantity, educational, government and OEM discounts, are very competitive.

In addition to our normal terminal and communications business, D.C. can offer both short and long term rentals on the full variety of equipment. We offer rentals with various amounts of equity accumulation.

The David Jamison Carlyle Corporation invites you to take advantage of our outstanding facilities and services. We would be pleased to quote prices and delivery on your next terminal, communications or computer requirement.
